Governor Dole Dined by Young

Oakland, May 29.—Governor Sanford B. Dole of the Territory of Hawaii was the guest at a dinner given in his honor this evening by Alexander Young at the Young home on Vernon Heights. Covers were laid for seventeen gentlemen. They included several boyhood friends of Governor Dole and others with whom he has been associated in a business or diplomatic way for many years. Mr. Young, the host, was Minister of the Interior in the cabinet of Mr. Dole when he was President of Hawaii.

The table decorations were of red roses and maidenhair fern. The name cards were in the form of the native fans of Hawaii and were trimmed through with red ribbons. Dinner began at 7 o'clock and it was nearly midnight when the festivities ended.

The guests were Governor S. B. Dole, S. T. Alexander, E. M. Walsh, Hugh Craig, Theodore F. Dudge, F. M. Smith, P. C. Havens, Charles H. King, Dr. Joseph Lewis Howard, Orestes Pierce, R. J. Cotton, Charles Webb Howard, W. G. Palmanteer, H. P. Baldwin, W. T. Veitch and J. L. Howard.

Governor Dole departs for Honolulu Saturday on the steamer Alameda. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Young will go on the same vessel to Honolulu to attend the wedding of their son, Archibald A. Young, and Miss Maud Gillette, which is to be celebrated on June 18.

W. O. SMITH TO SPEAK

Y.M.C.A. NOTES.

The Y. M. C. A. 4 o'clock service will be held on the campus of the Kaneohe Manual Training School, by invitation of Principal Dyke. Mr. Theodore Richards will deliver a brief address of interest to the young men of the school and to the general public, everybody being invited to share in this informal gathering. The saluting of the flag and the singing of the students is always enjoyed by the public. There will be no Bible class at 5 o'clock nor any lunch at 6 as heretofore, as these features have finished for the season.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

The championship match of the Honolulu Golf Club will be played on the Moanalua links tomorrow, A. Garvie and R. Anderson are the contestants who, after having beaten all their opponents in the previous rounds, now stand ready to meet each other. Both men are exceedingly good players and local golfers are exhibiting much interest in the match. The general opinion of the golfers is that the men are pretty evenly matched and that the match will be a very close and interesting one.

SCRIMGEOUR'S ESTATE

AN ORDER REQUESTED TO SELL HARNESS STOCK

Life Insurance of D. B. Smith Not Yet Recovered—An Executor's Hand Forced—Jury Trial Demanded.

David Dayton, administrator of the estate of A. B. Scrimgeour, deceased, has petitioned for an order to sell the stock-in-trade of the harness business at King and Fort streets. The tenancy of the stand is monthly and the rent has been paid until June 30, but Mr. Dayton is unable to obtain any promise of a continuance of the tenancy to a purchaser of the stock-in-trade. He believes the business to be insolvent and an advertisement for bids to purchase the stock brought only two, $500 being offered in one case and $1,200 in the other. His opinion is that a sale by auction would not net more than the bid of Fred Philip. Therefore he prays that he may be authorized to effect the sale to Mr. Philip for $1,200. Judge Gear has appointed Mele Pua, grandmother of seven minor children of John Spencer, their guardian with the father's written consent under bond of $100.

Judge Gear has approved the accounts of Cecil Brown, administrator of the estate of D. B. Smith, deceased, and ordered the delivery of the property in his hands to Mamie L. Burke, nee Smith, his bond to be reduced to $25,000. This amount represents the life insurance in the Equitable, being the only sum due the estate uncollected and to recover which a suit is now pending in the United States Supreme Court.

In the matter of the estate of P. Kanamawa Kuahu, a motion presented by H. W. Robinson, attorney for Mele Pua Wahimani, was granted by Judge Gear to order Henry Maul, executor, to file an account.

BURNING SHIP'S CREW TAKE TO BOATS AND SIXTEEN STILL MISSING

Telephone at Anahola, says Captain Tullett of the James Makee.

The fire in the cargo of the Fannie Kerr must have been burning for many days before the ship was abandoned. When a fire is discovered in a cargo of coal aboard a steel ship the fire can very often be controlled for a long time if the hatches are battened down. It cannot be controlled forever, however, and it is probable that the crew of the Fannie Kerr remained aboard just as long as was possible. After fighting the fire for days, perhaps weeks, the captain and crew were in all probability ready to leave the ship at a moment's notice. As is usual in such cases, the life boats must have been well stocked with provisions and fresh water and supplied with oars and sails. When the iron decks became so hot that it was impossible to stand upon them and the fire in the hold gave signs of getting the upper hand, so that the decks were likely to be blown up at any minute, then it was no doubt that the captain gave orders to abandon ship and all hands took to the boats.

As Captain Gibbons reported, the decks blew up shortly after the boats left the vessel. The crew left the burning ship only just in time. Had they remained aboard half an hour longer the probabilities are that none would have survived to tell the tale. The still flaming hull of the Fannie Kerr probably floats with the winds and currents unguided by the hand of man. She may be seen and reported here later by steamships coming from the Orient.

There is a possibility of the tug Fearless going in search of the burning vessel and towing her to port. This matter has not yet been decided upon, however. It is the opinion of some shipping men that the Fannie Kerr would make a rich prize for a tug to bring to port.

Captain Gibbons asked the captain of the Mikahala to leave full particulars of the disaster at Waimea, so that whoever started out in search of the two missing boats could call at Waimea and get information on which to base further movements.

If the Albatross fails to speak the W. G. Hall tonight she will call at Waimea for information on which to base her course of action.

The news brought by the James Makee stirred up the waterfront this morning and a number of captains who are acquainted with Captain Gibbons of the Fannie Kerr expressed their sympathy.

Where the fifteen men and first mate are at the present time is impossible to say. They may have managed to land on Kauai, somewhere after the James Makee left Anahola, or they may be making for the French Frigate Shoals. Why they should steer for the Shoals is difficult to imagine. Then again, the two boats may have met with serious accident or may be laboriously moving over the face of the waters without a friendly breath of air. If they have not landed on Kauai and are still above water the Albatross is likely to rescue them and bring them safely to port.

Governor Dole was in his office all morning and had a constant chain of callers.

Colonel William E. Peters on June 19 will retire from the chair of Latin in the University of Virginia, after forty-six years of continuous service. When his commanding general ordered him to burn the town of Chambersburg, Pa., during the Civil War, he declined to make war on helpless women and children.

NEW YORK CUSTOMS OFFICERS IN SCANDAL

New York, May 29.—Six hundred thousand dollars a year has been systematically stolen from the United States Government by importers of Oriental silks and fabrics, acting in collusion with alleged dishonest customs officials at this port, according to Deputy Assistant Attorney General W. Wickham Smith, who made the sensational announcement today. An official report of a startling nature, it is declared, will follow in a few days and is strongly hinted that wholesale arrests and prosecutions among customs officials and silk importers and brokers are imminent.

General Appraiser Wakeman, who urged the investigation which threatened to land a score of prominent officials and merchants in prison, says the gigantic fraud has been practiced for several years, and that in his opinion the Government has been victimized of fully $6,000,000, if not more. Already frauds aggregating $200,000 have been specifically located as having been committed by a simple method of undervaluation of Japanese silks and wools.

The Treasury Department has been investigating customs appraisements for the past four months, the work being in charge of Deputy Assistant Attorney General Smith. General Appraiser Wakeman made charges covering these facts and tried to have the Collector and the United States Attorney for the district proceed. But he was turned down, and upon an appeal to the department at Washington, the Solicitor of the Treasury, and even the Treasury Department, sided against the Appraiser. Wakeman was removed by Secretary Gage.

The attorney for the importers wrote to the Secretary of the Treasury and to the President asking for complete vindication. President Roosevelt granted this in good faith, and, sending for Wakeman, asked for an explanation. That explanation explained entirely too much for the good of some people, and Roosevelt employed Smith and charged him to make a full investigation. The result is said to be a complete vindication of Wakeman and a whole hornet's nest of trouble for others.

Wakeman, when asked this morning what he had to say about the report, declined to make any statement, using the following language: "I will say nothing about this matter at the present time. I am too sore. By and by when I have had a chance to cool off, I may make a statement. If I should tell you what I now think I might say something which I would regret."

Butchers Shut Shop in Chicago

Chicago, May 29.—Thousands of persons in Chicago were unable to buy beef today at any price, and it is declared that the shortage will be felt far more seriously tomorrow. Two hundred butchers on the North and West sides have decided to close their shops until the teamsters shall be granted concessions asked and many others will be forced to close because of their inability to get fresh meat. A number of the Jewish butchers have agreed that they will not buy any more meat from the yards until the strike is settled.

The Louisiana Division, United Confederate Veterans, has invited Miss Mary Curtis Lee to be its guest on the trip to Dallas and to the reunion.

SOME GOOD WRESTLING

The committee of the Honolulu Athletic Club which is making the arrangements for the sporting exhibition to be held in the Opera House on the night of the 11th of June, has secured four of the leading Japanese wrestlers of this city to show their skill on that evening. The men are Shinokuruma, Haguyama, Shidimoyama and Taniguchi.

Of these the three first have been seen in this city before. They having taken part in the exhibition given by "Denver" Ed. Smith in the Orpheum some time ago. Taniguchi has not been seen by the general public before, but Japanese connoisseurs of the noble art avow that he is very clever.

Pains have been taken by the committee to get assurance that the men will do their best and give a real show of their prowess from the world over instead of fooling with each other in a half-hearted manner, as is sometimes the wont of the champions from the land of the chrysanthemum.
